PROHIBITION FOR TERRITORY IS GOAL INVITATION TO HILO

(From Wednesday Advertiser)

While the Anti-Saloon League is circulating petitions through the churches of the city calling upon congress to pass the Gronna Bill providing for federal prohibition in Hawaii, the liquor interests are not visibly excited, and as far as can be learned have taken no steps to combat the work of the Anti-Saloon League.

On the other hand, judging from opinions expressed by members, it is possible that the legislature will adopt a resolution calling on congress not to pass the Gronna Bill and urging it to keep hands off and permit the Territory to handle its own liquor question.

It is said that the resolution will set forth that the legislature is opposed to federal prohibition, on the ground that it would constitute interference in affairs which the Territory should be permitted to settle in its own way, and that this interference would be in direct opposition to the wishes of the citizens of Hawaii who, in a plebiscite, voted against federal prohibition by a large majority.

To this resolution it is proposed to attach a copy of the present liquor laws of Hawaii to show that in the matter of strict regulation of the liquor traffic they compare favorably with the most advanced laws on this subject in the United States, and that the liquor laws are far better enforced in Hawaii than in any State in the Union.

Hits Poor Man Only.

While declining to discuss any plans which the liquor interests may have for combating the work of the Anti-Saloon League, one prominent dealer expressed the opinion yesterday that even should the Webb law, which prohibits the shipment of liquor from wet into dry States, for sale, be declared constitutional, and that even should congress pass the Gronna bill, it would not prevent the consumption of liquor by residents of Hawaii.

"You will notice," he said, "that the Gronna Bill forbids the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors in the Territory of Hawaii, and that the Webb measure forbids the shipment from wet into dry territory of liquor to be offered for sale. Neither measure prohibits a person from having it shipped to him for his own consumption or to give to his friends. They are simply measures which will permit the man who is able to do so, to purchase his liquors by the case and keep a well-stocked cellar, while the ordinary man will in a measure be prohibited from doing so. Both are measures which will affect the poor man, but not the person of wealth."

It was also intimated by the representative of the liquor interests that the Webb Bill, aside from the question of its constitutionality, contains a number of jokers of which the liquor dealers were well aware before its passage and that many of the members of congress who voted to override the President's veto were also aware of this fact, and joyfully seized the opportunity of making a play to their constituents without offending the liquor people.

Liquor Traffic a Crime.

When the attention of Agent George W. Farty of the Anti-Saloon League, was called to this point, he said: "We are somewhat mystified regarding the Webb Bill for all the information and literature we received as dealt only with the Kenyon-Sheppard Bill, for which I understand the Webb measure was substituted at the last moment. It is possible that there was trickery, but I feel confident that the representatives of the Anti-Saloon League in Washington would have discovered any loophole in the bill and exposed them."

Our petitions calling for the passage of the Gronna Bill were distributed through the churches last Sunday and are now being circulated. I understand that the liquor men are not doing anything and this is because they cannot comprehend that they are doomed, but they are due to have a harsh awakening. The liquor traffic is a crime, not a business and the supreme court is not going to hold any law forbidding the commission of crime unconstitutional."
